The project is aimed at creating an efficient network of European organisations (“Net”) which help people with autistic spectrum disorders (ASD) or work with similar target groups. The Net’s activities should positively influence the legislative framework in the Czech Republic in order to adequately reflect the needs of people with ASD and other handicaps. An inseparable part of the project is also the analysis and assessment of successfully used tools in the area of supported employment, both in the Czech Republic and worldwide, and the creation of a policy for supported employment and further work possibilities for people with ASD. This policy will be based on a mutual exchange of information, experience and know-how among the members of the Net. A unique element in the work of the Net will be the involvement of the target group (people with ASD) in the policy creation.

PROJECT PARTNER – AUTISM-EUROPE

Autism-Europe (AE), APLA Prague’s partner in the project TWCM, is an international association with more than 80 members from 30 European countries. The main goal of AE is improve the quality of life for people with ASD and their families. AE actively influences the direction of European policies in the areas of social affairs, anti-discrimination, and healthcare. Autism-Europe works in strategic coalitions with organisations that share the same concerns and goals. These include the European Disability Forum (EDF), the Platform of European Social NGOs and the European Coalition for Community Living (ECCL). AE is a founder member of these organisations and currently holds the vice presidency of EDF. Autism-Europe has established a structured dialogue with the European Institutions and is also active towards the World Health Organisation (WHO). With its awareness raising activities, AE significantly contributes to understanding ASD among the general and expert public in Europe, as well as worldwide.
